

April 10th, 2022

Dear Exhibitors,

We are changing the shows this summer. We hope you like and will support this new direction as it comes about from some of your suggestions and our desire to hear from you, our clients. Objects of Art will now absorb the American Indian show as well as add Tribal to our title. This change is to keep the shows in one place at one time over the weekend. The Indian show will drop the word antique but continue to emphasize historic materials as they are our major interest. We will also feature a wider range of tribal art — much as we have done in San Francisco. This change, or expansion, will open up our desired market as we continue to present the finest in Santa Fe shows.
