Dear Exhibitors,

Objects of Art Shows is pleased to announce that we will be offering two virtual shows this summer alongside our live, in-person presentation. Both virtual shows will feature special exhibitions and interactive lectures.

Virtual Objects of Art Santa Fe and the virtual Antique American Indian Art Show Santa Fe will run August 9th - August 31st, 2021.

Virtual Objects of Art Santa Fe features material ranging from contemporary to historic. The show will include paintings, sculpture, and fine art of all kinds, furniture, books, fashion, jewelry, textiles, and tribal, folk, American Indian, African, and Asian art – objects of art from around the world.

The Virtual Antique American Indian Art Show Santa Fe brings together the world's most knowledgeable experts in the field, offering hundreds of select historic art objects from indigenous cultures throughout the United States and Canada. The show will include basketry, jewelry, textiles, kachinas, sculptures, pottery and more.

Those who participate in both the in-person and virtual show will be offered a discount on the virtual space. We encourage, but do not require, that you take part in both. The virtual presentation for our San Francisco Shows introduced many of our exhibitors to a worldwide audience that drew international sales for many of those who participated.

Our virtual team has been strengthened and we learned a lot from our inaugural virtual show. We have upgraded our platform which will increase the reach of the event and therefore our interested audience. We expect this to have a positive effect on our overall presentations as it allows more people to take part without traveling to Santa Fe at a specific time.
